Hawaii for Health.

The climate of the Hawaiian islands is delightful, and a good many Americans go there to enjoy it, or for their health. We have amire, France.
Stur Mikahala, Chaney, for Mani and not a doubt that tens of thousands of Americans would visit the lovely islands every year if the American flag floated over them, and American freedom was firmly established in them, and American law was the law of their existence.-N. Y. Sun.

AN ACCOMPLISHED WOMAN.

Commander Dickins' Wife Has Improved Her Opportunities For Culture

Mrs. Marguerite Dickins, the wife of Communder F. W. Dickins, U. S. N., who was detailed to attend the Duke of Versigna and his family while in this country, accompanies her bushand and adds not a little to the pleasure of our distinguished guests and those who meet them by her charming personality and her ability to converse in several different languages. She was born in the beautiful valley of the Unadilla in western New York and spent most of her childhood years with her widowed mother at the home of her grandfather, Noah Ely, Esq., a prominent and learned lawyer, under whose tuition she acquired a very thercash knowledge of the dead languages. After her mother's marriage to Mr. C. Francis Bases of Boston, her education was continued at one of the best private schools of New York city. Later she spent three years abroad studying art last week. and the languages, of which she speaks finently French, Spanish and German. About 16 years ago, soon after returning to this country, she married Commander F. W. Dickins and with him has been pretty much all over the world-the watery world and the shores thereof.

Between 1888 and 1891 her husband was stationed at Callao, Peru, and varions points on the coast of Brazil, Uro guay and Paraguay. Mrs. Dickins lived on board ship, making excursions here and there into the countries, becoming familiar with the customs of the people and observing their bome life. Her perfect command of the Spanish language enabled her to learn many things which would have been a sealed book to one less gifted, and she gave these impressions and observations to American readers in many charmingly written letters published in Washington and other papers. Her latest royage with her husband was to Japan last summer. and she gave some exceedingly entertaining "impressions" of that country in a series of articles in the Washington Post. "Along Shore With a Man of War," a well gotten up and beautifully illustrated volume, is a "round up," as one may say, of the places she has visit ed, and very readable indeed.

Commander and Mrs. Dickins have a pretty home in Washington filled with interesting souvenirs of their journey JULIETTE M. BARRITT

The Wife of Bobert Louis Stevenson. Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson is a portly, gray haired woman, who was a grandried this second husband. Her son Lloyd, who collaborated with Stevenson in the ghastly tales, "The Wrong Bor" and "The Wrecker," was a middle aged man before he began to write. Her only other child is the wife of Joseph Strong, the artist, and is herself a painter in a small way. Stevenson has been accused of thrusting his sisters, his cousins and his aunts into fiction. Certainly, although Fanny Stevenson has produced some creditable work as Mrs. Osborne, she had no reputation for brilliancy in a very clever San Francisco set. There she was introduced solely in the capacity of chaperon, to sit, smiling, in her black silk gown, while her gay little daughter sang French songs or chatted with the bright Bohemian club men. - New York Times.

How Tennyson Decided a Matter.

Here is Tennyson's own account to Mr. James Knowles, editor of The Nineteenth Century, of how he was offered and accepted the isuresteship; "The night before I was asked to take the lauresteship, which was offered to me through Prince Albert's liking for my 'In Memorism,' I dreamed be came to me and kissed me on the cheek. I said in my dream, 'Very kind, but very German. In the morning the letter about the isurenteship was brought to me and laid upon my bed. I thought about it through the day, but could not make up my mind whether to take it or refuse it, and at the last I wrote two letters, one accepting and one declining, and threw them on the table and settled to decide which I would send after my dinner and bottle of port."

Women and Comic Papers.

A man said the other day that in riding out and in daily on a suburban train for years he had mover yet seen a woman buy one of the comic weeklies, though bey sold by dozens to the men travelers It would be interesting to know what kink is missing from the female mentalty which deprives her of this boon, for it is nothing short of a boon to be able to see the funny side of life. It helps wer many hard places and inbricates many creaking joints in demestic mahinery .- New York Times.

WHARF AND WAVE.

The German iron bark Paul Isenberg, Captain Bret, arrived on Saturday with 13,500 packages general merchandise and 730 tons coal from Liverpool. She accomplished the passage from Liverpool to this port in the remarkable good time of 115 days. The Paul Isenberg is at present anchored out in the stream.

The 8-ton Hawaiian sloop Kahuku, of Hilo, Hawaii, in charge of Capt. Cook, arrived on Saturday with sand ballast from Hilo. Hawaii. The sloop was anchored out in the stream. The captain told his friends that he brought the sloop here for sale.

There were no foreign arrivals at either Hilo, Mahukona or Kahului

The bark Andrew Welch is 18 days out from San Francisco for this port.

Mr. Fithian, of Illinois, will push a bill in the U.S. Senate to grant American registers to vessels engaged in the foreign trade, wherever built, if owned by Americans.

The American clipper ship Florence, which left New York in company with the ship Baring Brothers on Mayo for a race around the Horn to San Francisco, reached that port an easy winner on Sept. 14. The American clipper of the '50's was famous for her speed, and the trick of fast sailing has by no means been forgotten by our modern skippers.-Ex.

A sailing vessel lighted with electricity is seldom seen in any port of the world, but the new Spanish bark La Vigesua, which has just arrived in Philadelphia from Vigo, Spain, is lighted throughout with the strongest and clearest electric lights to be seen anywhere, either ashore or affoat. She is a bulk oil as well as a general cargo carrier. A little oil engine, stowed away in a safe part of the vessel's hold, furnishes not only power enough for light, but enough to pump in or out her fluid cargo. -Am. Ex.

I was very severely taken with dys-entery; I took a dose of Chambelain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhosa Remedy after each operation of the bowels, more than natural, for about thirtysix hours, and checked the complaint.
